

REQUEST FOR QUOTATIONS FOR ICT INFRASTRUCTURE UPGRADE

1.0 Background

The Institute for Law and Environmental Governance (ILEG) is an independent not-for profit public interest policy research, training and advocacy organization based in Nairobi, Kenya. Established in 2002, ILEG works mainly in Kenya and the wider African region to expand the range of sustainable development policy options. The Institute's key programme areas cover climate change, land and natural resources, environment and social justice, and science and technology. ILEG collaborates with a broad range of local communities, governments, development partners, the private sector and civil society organisations (CSOs) to promote sustainable development.
